Saw Broadcasts By 'Axis Sally' Says Witness

Ex-Nazi Official Testifies
In Treason Trial At Washington Today

TRIAL JURY WILL HEAR RECORDINGS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—An ex-Nazi official testified today in the "Axis Sally" treason trial that he saw the American-born woman, Mildred Gillars, make wartime broadcasts for the Hitler government.

Hans Von Richter, 38, who was a consular aide at Cleveland from 1935 to 1940, was called by the government to support the treason charges against the slim, gray-haired Miss Gillars, the "Axis Sally" of the Nazi radio.

Von Richter took the stand after the government offered in evidence 22 recordings of "Axis Sally" broadcasts. The recordings were made during the war by the federal listening post at Silver Hill, Md. They will be heard by the trial jury tomorrow and Friday.

Sharply Rebuked
The ex-German consular official was vigorously chewing gum as he began to testify. He was sharply rebuked by Federal Judge Edward M. Curran, who ordered him to get rid of the gum.

The witness said he worked for the German Consular service in Holland, the United States and Brazil before joining the Nazi broadcasting service as an assistant manager of the American zone overseas programs.

Von Richter testified he was a member of the Nazi party until 1942, when, he said, he was dismissed from the consular service and expelled from the party.

Pa Newc Observes

District farmers have no complaint this year, as far as their wells are concerned. Most wells contain ample supplies of water both for home consumption and for use in watering their stock. In other years, water has had to be hauled some distances due to the dryness of the season.

Pa Newc has been told that this area is experiencing has brought out of the ground many of the plants, such as tulips and other underground flowers which should not be making their appearance until late March. If a cold spell should come these plants will be frozen unless protection is given them.

Miss Judith Ryan of this city, a student at Geneva College, reports that she has just received word from her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Clifford Ryan, missionaries to French West Africa, that in their section they are experiencing the coldest weather ever known there. The thermometer dropped to 44 above zero it is reported by the missionaries, when normally it hovers around the 75 degree mark.

Hitchhiking continues to be a popular pastime at the intersection of Butler avenue and East Washington street. Almost daily young men heading for eastern cities are found at the favorite corner seeking transportation to their destination.

With the large amount of rain that has fallen in the past few days, pedestrians fear to walk through downtown alleys. Unthinking motorists going through the alleys drive through the puddles and splash the muddy water over the walkers. Occasionally a thoughtful motorist uses the alleys who is considerate of the pedestrians.

Youngstown Dual Tragedy Victims

Mrs. Catherine Shasho, about 52, mother of 12 children was shot and killed by her husband Tuesday in the living room of their home, Youngstown, Ohio, police reported. The husband, 53, then fired a single bullet into his own head. The homicide and suicide were due to a financial quarrel the couple had about supporting their huge family, police say.

Stepping Up Operations To Feed Starving Herds On Snowbound Ranges

DENVER, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The army moved with swift precision today to step up its "operation feedlift" in dropping tons of hay and other feed to about two million starving, snowbound western cattle and sheep.

Stockmen in the stricken area, which includes western Nebraska and extends through South Dakota to Nevada, hoped for generally warmer weather, but not enough to lower materially the deep snow drifts which have trapped the range animals.

The ranchers declared the operation by the army so far was "100 per cent effective" but they pleaded for even more planes and men. They declared that to avert further heavy livestock losses the army's "operation feedlift" must be expanded.

New Blizzard In California

Desert and Mountain Areas
Lashed—Temperatures
In Twenties Again

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Southern California, suffering the bitterest winter in decades, shivered today in the wake of a blizzard that lashed desert and mountain areas.

Smudge pots were fired in citrus and avocado groves last night for temperatures in the twenties and more snow was in prospect in the mountains whose slopes are weighted with the heaviest pack in many years.

The blizzard rode in yesterday on a gale that reached velocities of 60 to 70 miles an hour. It left nearly three feet of new snow in the Big Pines winter resort for a total of seven feet there.

Pass Is Choked
The swirling snow choked Cajon Pass, the gateway via Highway 66 to Southern California, and marooned hundreds of winter sports enthusiasts in the San Bernardino Mountains.

Schools were closed in the Big Bear area as the result of 15 new inches of snow on top of the six to eight feet already there.

The storm brought Southern California's first death from freezing. Tito Rosales, an Indian, was found frozen to death in a foot of snow near Julian in the Cleveland National Forest, San Diego County. In the lowlands it snowed at such widely separated points as Catalina Island, Newhall, Palmdale, Victorville, Barstow, Needles, Banning, Beaumont and Hemet.

Gen. MacArthur To Stick It Out Until Treaty Is Signed

TOKYO, Jan. 26.—(INS)—General Douglas MacArthur told International News Service in a birthday statement today that he intends to "stick it out" in Japan "until the peace treaty is signed." The supreme allied commander in the Far East, observing his 69th birthday anniversary in Tokyo, stated:
"I still feel exactly as I felt three years ago. I intend to stick it out until this job is through if the government wants me to."
"And by 'through' I mean until the peace treaty is signed and these people are once again admitted into the family of nations."

Moderate Labor Government Is Seen For Israel

Such Is Indication In Returns From First Jewish State Election

(BULLETIN)

TEL AVIV, Jan. 26.—(INS)—A moderate labor government for Israel was apparently assured today by late returns in the Jewish state's first election.

A tally of the votes of approximately half the civilian population gave the mildly socialistic labor party of Premier David Ben-Gurion, the Mapai, a commanding lead of 35.5 percent.

The Mapai, a labor party much further left, trailed with only 14.6 percent of the vote. A coalition of orthodox religious parties ran a close third with 14.1 percent.

The Heruth (freedom) party, a right-wing group led by former Irgun Zvai Leumi terrorist chief Menahim Beigin was in fourth place with only 10 percent of the votes cast.

Includes Jerusalem Vote

The results included all votes cast in Jerusalem, almost all those cast in Haifa, and part of those cast in Tel Aviv.

The unforeseen strength of orthodox religious groups came in large part from Jerusalem, where the religious coalition gathered 23 per cent of the total vote.

But returns from collective settlements were expected to reduce orthodox strength, and the totals for the Mapai and Heruth parties are expected to increase.

Some observers believe that Heruth votes, coming from city areas, may yet put the former Irgunists in second place.

Inductions To Start Thursday

Only Small Number Will Be Inducted Into Army During This Month

NONE CALLED IN FEBRUARY-MARCH

Inductions of men summoned in the Selective Service draft for the month of January will start Thursday evening, when the first group will be sent away, leaving via the Pennsylvania railroad at 6 o'clock.

The number called up this month is smaller than heretofore. There will be 21 men sent away Thursday, six from Kittanning, eight from Ambridge, and seven from Beaver Falls.

On Friday evening, twenty-one will be sent away from Butler county's two boards.

Next Monday evening, January 31, will wind up the inductions, with ten going from Aliquippa, and eleven from Local Board 87, of New Castle. None will be sent out this month by County Board 86.

The local draft boards have received word that there will be no calls during February and March, and no orders for examination of the men from the five county area.

The committee of bar association members appointed by the judge sought to learn how and why a microphone was concealed in the woodwork of a Lima jury room.

Judge Jenkins said:
"The placing of that microphone jeopardized the constitutional rights of every resident of Allen county . . . parties responsible will be brought to justice."

He said the hidden "mike" with wires leading from the third floor room to an unused storeroom on the second floor must have been placed between Wednesday and Friday night last week.

Juries have not used the room since Jan. 1, but Richard E. Snyder, indicted for the slaying of his wife last August had conferred with his attorney in the wired room.

Jenkins questioned 10 courthouse employees and law officials before he appointed the investigating committee to find out the purpose of the microphone and wires which he said ended in a device similar to that used on a wire recorder.

Conly Reappointed To P.U.C. By Duff
HARRISBURG, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Reappointment of John B. Conly, of Pittsburgh, to the public utilities commission for a 10 year term effective April 1 was announced today by Gov. James H. Duff.

Judge Warns He Will Speed Trial Of Communists

Tells Defense He Is Considering Steps To Speed Up Case

(BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Judge Harold S. Medina, presiding at the slowly moving trial of 11 top-ranking U. S. Communists, warned the defense today that he is considering taking steps to speed up the case.

The judge said he was "very definitely" thinking of not allowing the defense to call as witnesses virtually all of the jury panel of 525, as well as the 23 members of the grand jury which indicted the Communists, on charges of conspiring to "teach and advocate" the violent overthrow of the government.

The defense already has called as witnesses four talesmen in an effort to prove their contention that the jury system in this district is "illegal and unconstitutional" and excludes Negroes, and Jews, manual workers and political and racial minorities.

Judge Medina's announcement was made as the trial resumed after having been in adjournment since last Friday, when the first week of the trial was completed.

Burns Fatal To Mrs. Mary Jessum

Elderly Woman Who Was Critically Burned Tuesday, Dies This Morning

BELIEVE STOVE POLISH EXPLODED

Mrs. Mary Jessum, aged 76 years, of 1119 West Washington street extension, who was critically burned about the upper part of the body when her clothing caught fire as she was working about a small coal stove in her home Tuesday morning, succumbed as a result of her injuries in the Jameson Memorial hospital at 3 o'clock this morning.

According to the story as told to Coroner Charles E. Allen by members of the Charles B. Hogue family of 1115 West Washington street, who are neighbors of Mrs. Jessum, they were notified of the accident by telephone, Mrs. Jessum calling them. She was screaming with the pain of her terrible injuries, and they were unable to understand just who it was who had been injured at first, but went to the Jessum home.

By the time they had arrived, Mrs. Jessum had removed what was left of her clothing and thrown them into a sink and turned the water on them. There was a fire on the rug of the living room, which Mr. Hogue extinguished.

A can of stove polish was found in the room alongside. It is believed that Mrs. Jessum tried to polish the stove while it was too hot, and that the polish exploded.

The body has been removed to—(Continued on Page Two)

Bevin Indicates Great Britain To Recognize Israel

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—British Foreign Secretary Bevin indicated today that Great Britain soon will recognize Israel but said it was unfortunate some nations rushed to recognize the Jewish state "when we were presumed to be working together on this problem."

In a lengthy review to the house of commons in which he said that Britain and the U. S. now are working in "close cooperation on the Middle East," Bevin conceded the State of Israel "now is a fact" and Britain will do nothing to unsettle the situation.

'Big Bill' Lias Is Given New Trial

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Federal Judge W. E. Baker today granted William G. (Big Bill) Lias a new trial on charges of income tax evasion.

The jurist announced his decision, setting aside a guilty plea previously entered by the race track owner, before a packed court room. He did not set a date for the new trial.

Lias received a maximum sentence of five years in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., after pleading guilty last November to one count of a five-count charge of evading income taxes.

End Of Berlin Blockade Is Not In Sight

Gen. Lucius Clay Predicts It Will Last Another Six Months At Least

BERLIN, Jan. 26.—(INS)—U. S. military governor Gen. Lucius D. Clay predicted today that the Berlin blockade will last for another six months at least and denied that any Russian "peace offensive" has reached Berlin.

The General told a news conference that there are no signs whatever of a change in Soviet policy regarding Germany.

Gen. Clay said:
"There are no indications of any solution of the Berlin question for the next six months at least."
"The so-called 'peace offensive' is not in evidence here."

Towerman Killed When Train Crashes Into Signal Tower

CATAWISSA, Pa., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Reading company and Pennsylvania railroad workmen today cleared a track intersection of 10 derailed freight cars after they crashed into Norela signal tower and killed the towerman.

John D. Mettler, 64, of Crowl, 45-year veteran on the PRR, was reported dead of injuries and burns when the derailed cars crashed the tower and caused a fire.

Mettler was to be relieved a few minutes after the crash last night. W. H. Baker, Catawissa, walked along the tracks on his way to take Mettler's place when the crash occurred. He was unhurt.

Mettler planned to retire in the fall.

The 48-car loaded freight was enroute to Harrisburg from Wilkes-Barre, railroad officials said.

Franz Von Papen Ordered Released

NUERNBERG, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Franz Von Papen, for many years top diplomat of the Nazi regime, was ordered released from a labor camp today when a German appeal court nullified his eight-year sentence.

Von Papen, a figure of major importance in both world wars, had been convicted as a "major offender."

The denazification court of appeals, however, found that he should be classified as an offender "of the second-worst" type who had served sufficient time to atone for his misdeeds.

Panic-Stricken Civilians Flee From Nanking

Prospect Of Bombardment Of City, Stars Growing Exodus From City

NANKING SCENES BORDER ON CHAOS (BULLETIN)

NANKING, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The prospect that Communist siege guns shortly may begin pumping shells into Nanking precipitated a growing exodus from the threatened capital today amid scenes bordering on chaos.

Thousands of residents and officials, fearing for their lives, crammed all outgoing trains and planes as a Red onslaught across the Yangtze river directly upon Nanking was anticipated.

A Communist broadcast said peace negotiations would be acceptable, provided the Nationalists surrender to the Red demands.

However, a Nationalist official vowed that Nanking would be defended fiercely if the Reds attack the city before a peace parley can be set.

In an apparent move to check Nanking's rising panic, Acting President Li Tsung-jen proclaimed his determination to remain in the Red-menaced capital, "come what may."

Li's announcement was issued notwithstanding the fact he ranks high on the Communist list of "punishment" targets.

Officials Leaving
Despite the acting president's declaration, officials of his "caretaker" government jammed all available outgoing planes to escape Nanking. Most of them headed "punishment."

Steel Common Shares Jump As Market Opens

Response To News Directors Voted To Split Stock Three-Four-One

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—(INS)—U. S. Steel common shares jumped $3.37 a share on the New York Stock Exchange today in response to last night's surprise news that directors had voted to split the stock three-for-one.

Demand for the stock was so heavy at the opening that the first transaction was delayed for 35 minutes while stock exchange officials sought to arrange a balance of buy and sell orders.

It opened on a block of 15,000 shares at 76.25, as compared with yesterday's close of 72.87.

The rest of the market was aided by the U. S. Steel news, with steel issues in the forefront.

Irving S. Olds, chairman of the board of U. S. Steel announced to the board that Walter S. Gifford, chairman of the Board of American Telephone and Telegraph, has been named a director of the steel corporation.

Snow storms in California, blizzards in old Utah, and from our friends in the west, it's the worst that you ever saw. Orange trees white, and the palm trees shivering under the blast, cattle ranges are hungry by now. I wonder how long it will last. But here we've been free from the winter, though promised again and again, when they said we'd have snow, in flurries or storms, it usually turned out as rain. A rather strange winter I gather, the weatherman's up to his tricks, and it's raining today, like a morning in spring, and the weather is forty six.

Cancer Battle Is Being Waged

University Of Pennsylvania
Waging Battle On Disease
On 43 Fronts

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25—(INS)—The relentless battle against cancer is being waged on 43 fronts at the University of Pennsylvania. Extensive laboratory and clinical studies by hosts of scientists are pushing back the frontiers of the nation's Number Two killer—claimant of 200,000 American lives each year.

Dr. Robin C. Buerki, the university's vice president in charge of medical affairs, labels 1949 as the year of the all-out drive by the university against this scourge.

Current experiments range from researches with radio-active isotopes of iodine, phosphorus and other therapeutic agents to evaluation of the botanical and synthetic drugs upon indirect cell division.

Lengthy Tests

Lengthy and carefully-calculated tests are being conducted on frogs, goldfish, catfish, chicken embryos, rats, flies, and other media. Echoing Dr. Buerki's words is a statement from the university's medical school—the oldest in the United States—which refers to latest developments on the cancer front as constituting "a great and rapid expansion" of the university's entire cancer program.

Heading the over-all cancer crusade at Pennsylvania is the two-year-old Cancer Commission. Its personnel consists of seven leading members of the medical staff.

Recently it lauded the fast-growing "state of awareness" on the part of the public in detecting early cancer symptoms and seeking prompt medical attention.

Speedy Diagnosis

Speedy diagnosis still is man's most potent weapon against cancer. As an example of the recognition by the public of this fact, the commission cited the university's tumor clinic. During the last year the clinic's patient load increased 100 per cent.

In addition, the commission reported that approximately 2,400 patients are examined annually at the Cancer Prevention Health Maintenance Clinic of the University hospital.

At the clinic patients receive complete physical examinations. If cancer is indicated, the patient is referred to private physicians. Those unable to pay are guided to a hospital clinic.

Such early precautions, university scientists continue to emphasize, still is the "best cure". Early detection makes possible life-sustaining measures through surgery and radiation or other treatment. The word is—Move Fast.

Garmisch, scene of the 1936 winter Olympics, is again preparing to be host to winter sports enthusiasts from all parts of Europe and the United States.

Gen. MacArthur Is Given Honor On His Anniversary

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—(INS)—General Douglas MacArthur—observing his 69th birthday today by staying on the job in Tokyo—was given an honorary membership in the Circumnavigators Club as a "present" in honor of the occasion.

The Far Eastern commander, in a message to the club which held a birthday party for the general at New York's Hotel Lexington, said he was "deeply honored" to accept the gift.

General MacArthur in turn invited club members to come and see him in Tokyo. In a cable to club president Eddie Egan, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, MacArthur stated:

"Please accept and convey to the club members my warm greetings and thanks. Tell them it is time for them to circumnavigate the world again and that when they do, to be sure to drop in and see us in Japan. Their welcome will be most cordial."

A birthday dinner will be held for MacArthur in New York tonight, at which a message from the general will be read giving his views on the political situation in the Far East, particularly with relation to the Communist successes in China.

General Jonathan M. Wainwright is honorary chairman. Guests also will include General George C. Kenney, formerly MacArthur's air chief in the Pacific, and other friends and former comrades of the Far Eastern supreme commander.

Mills of Butler, the 1001st enlistee, who enlisted for three years in the U. S. air force, received the oath of enlistment along with Sgt. Hughes.

Capt. Charles E. Weddle, recruiting officer of the New Castle U. S. army and U. S. air force recruiting main station, administered the oath.

South to Canton where a new and probably temporary seat of government is to be set up.

While some 100,000 of their troops moved to the Yangtze's north bank for an expected cross-river leap at the capital, the Communists announced their acceptance of the Nationalist bid for peace talks.

The Red radio, however, made it plain such negotiations could be launched only on the basis of Communist leader Mao Tse-tung's eight-point "peace ultimatum," tantamount to a demand for complete surrender.

Fear mounted that long-range Communist siege guns might begin lobbing shells into Nanking before any peace conversations can be arranged or a cease-fire ordered.

Consequently, mobs of panic-stricken civilians sought to get out of the city by all available means. Some of these crowds fleeing for their lives took the law into their own hands and seized several trains on the rail line that parallels the Yangtze's south bank eastward to Shanghai.

In a struggle to restore order, government troops recaptured the trains about 50 miles east of the capital. Traffic on the Nanking-Shanghai railroad, however, was completely disrupted.

Telephone messages from Nanking to Shanghai described the capital as an "empty husk," with most Nationalist officials leaving on every plane bound for Shanghai.

The prospect of heavy fighting in the environs and perhaps even in the streets of Nanking was not excluded. Scores of thousands of Nationalist troops—many of them still in disciplined units—remained garrisoned in and around the city.

Moreover, a Nationalist military spokesman defiantly asserted that the Communist troops will be "ruthlessly pounded" if they fail to stop their advance on Nanking, pending the start of peace negotiations.

Nevertheless, several hundred thousands of bedraggled government troops were abandoning all their remaining positions north of the Yangtze. They were falling back in great haste to and across the biggest of China's rivers.

STEPPING UP OPERATIONS FOR STARVING HERDS

South Dakota and Kansas. They will aid governors of those states in securing U. S. air force help when the state itself is unable to handle the situation brought on by the January blizzard conditions.

More Aid In Prospect

More air force "flying boxcar" flights were in prospect today over the icy stock ranges of Nevada to "bomb" starved and weakened cattle and sheep with bailed hay and cottonseed cake from low altitudes.

Operating out of Ely, Nev., were 17 of the C-82 cargo planes. Part of the force shuttled tons of hay into Ely for distribution by truck. Others moved the stock feed directly to some of the 200,000 sheep and 500,000 cattle in the area. A schedule of about 20 missions a day was arranged.

In some instances, Nevada ranchers rode with the army pilots to act as "bombardiers" in dropping the bales of hay.

Six C-47 planes left Lowry air force base in Denver yesterday for "operation feedlift" work in South Dakota, Nebraska and Colorado. Three planned further flights today out of Alliance, Neb., to drop feed to livestock.

One plane dropped supplies to a snow-bound ranch near Rapid City, S. D. Another carried gasoline for army planes and "snow weasels" at Alliance, and a third dumped feed from the air to feed herds in north-central Colorado.

229TH ARTILLERY IS REORGANIZED

Battery is placed at 17 officers, one warrant officer, and 129 enlisted men. Previously the number of enlisted men was placed at 113. Service Battery is to be increased from 50 to 58 enlisted men, with three officers and one warrant officer; and the Medical Detachment is increased from eight enlisted men to 10, with one officer.

Each of the three firing batteries, located at Grove City, DuBois and Punxsutawney, are authorized to increase to six officers and 88 enlisted men.

Incident to this reorganization program, the following assignments have been announced by Lt. Col. Mitchell:

Headquarters Executive Officer, Major Edward G. Eakin; battalion adjutant, Capt. Edward L. Goodfellow; battalion survey officer, Dallas C. Hartford; Headquarters Battery commander, Capt. James A. Yohn; personnel officer, Warrant Officer William N. Peterson; Battery "C" assistant executive officer, Lt. Raymond E. Bryant; Service Battery motor officer, Lt. James W. Anderson.

Colonel Mitchell states that there are still a few good openings in the 229th for qualified officers and enlisted men. Opportunities for advancement are good in the National Guard, he states, and those desiring information on joining any of the local units may secure further information any Wednesday or Thursday evening at Cunningham Armory, near Cascade Park.

ings were introduced today in the treason trial of the American spinner.

The recordings, made at a government listening post in Silver Hill, Md., during the war, preserve such programs as "Home Sweet Home," "Midge At The Mike" and others.

They form the chief exhibit in the government's attempt to prove that "Sally"—Mildred E. Gillars—became a traitor to her country when she broadcast propaganda for the Germans during the war.

Prosecutor John M. Kelley, Jr., said he would have the recordings identified this morning by the men who made them and then seek court permission to play them to the jury before the end of the week.

A network of wires has been installed in the courtroom with outlets for 15 pairs of earphones for jurors, judge, attorneys and reporters.

If found guilty of the treason charge, the gray haired Miss Gillars, a native of Portland, Maine, faces a possible death sentence.

Commissioners About Ready To Submit 1949 Budget For Public View

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

Lacking a few finishing touches, the 1949 budget for the county is complete. On February 1 the county commissioners will place the general budget and the institution budget upon display.

For 20 days the budget will be open to public view, after which it will be adopted in the shape as it is on display or with whatever additions or corrections are needed.

The tax levy has not yet been set but it appears that the increase may not go over one mill, making it six in all. Some corner cutting has been done and some shoving here and there. A five mill levy would run precariously close to the line. The balance this year as of July 1 will be hardly anything at all, if indeed it is not necessary to borrow before that time.

Senate Adopts Bonus Legislation

Measure Sent To Pennsylvania House Where Prompt Passage Is Predicted

HARRISBURG, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Veterans bonus legislation was adopted unanimously today by the state Senate and sent to the House where Majority Leader Charles H. Brunner predicted prompt passage.

The bonus proposal, sponsored this session by Sen. Frazier P. Donlan (R) Lackawanna authorizes via a constitutional amendment a $300,000,000 debt to underwrite payments up to a maximum of $500 for each eligible serviceman and woman.

The measure was referred to the House Military Affairs Committee and reported for initial consideration almost immediately. The schedule calls for the amendment to be placed on Gov. James H. Duff's early next week.

Payments would be limited to $15 a month for overseas service and $10 for each month of domestic duty.

In line with a constitutional provision, the amendment must be passed by two separately elected legislatures. It was adopted by the assembly in 1947 after being introduced in the House by Pennsylvania's major veterans organizations.

Temperance League Elects Dr. Scott As New President

The proposals were adopted unanimously yesterday during the league's annual meeting at Harrisburg.

Officers elected for 1949 were: President, Dr. B. L. Scott, of Bryn Mawr; vice-presidents, Dr. R. H. French, of Butler, and Dr. D. E. Young, of Harrisburg; secretary, Dr. Robert C. Wells, of Philadelphia; treasurer, Samuel Reid, of Philadelphia; assistant treasurer, Dr. Gene Stone, of Philadelphia.

Transportation Strike Threatened

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Leaders of the CIO Transport Workers Union today held a "no contract, no work" threat over the Philadelphia Transportation Co., effective at 12:01 a. m. February 11.

The executive board and section officers of local 234, TWU, representing 10,000 operating and maintenance workers, voted the resolution at Town Hall last night.

Delegates also threatened a work stoppage unless the firm "changes its attitude" in present contract negotiations. The union seeks a 25-cent hourly pay boost and has been offered two cents.

Rank-and-file members will be urged to adopt the resolution at a mass meeting next Thursday.

'Peace Offensive' By Soviets May Reach Germany

BERLIN, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Reports that the new Soviet "peace offensive" launched in western Europe, may spread to Germany were rife in Berlin today.

The reports were spurred by two separate occurrences which may prove straws in the wind.

One was a statement by Max Reimann, chairman of the Communist party of the western zones of Germany, that "President Truman himself is not an imperialist, but is merely the victim of imperialists."

The second was the sudden withdrawal of a speech scheduled by Soviet Berlin propaganda chief Col. Serge Tulpanov. Circulated well in advance, the speech asserted that peace in Germany is possible only on Communist terms.

Reimann's statement, which would have been considered heresy

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Proponents of a north Atlantic defense pact, which was supported vigorously by President Truman in his inaugural address, suffered a blow today by decision of the Scandinavian countries to remain aloof from the agreement and from the western European union.

The prime ministers, foreign ministers and defense ministers of Norway, Sweden and Denmark charted the course at a meeting in Copenhagen.

A brief statement merely said that under certain circumstances it would be possible to integrate the defenses of the three countries but only as a separate working entity within the framework of the United Nations.

Reasons For Failure

Plans to bring the three countries into the Atlantic pact obviously failed for two reasons:
1—Unwillingness of any one of them to sacrifice national sovereignty to a greater degree than imposed by the United Nations charter.

2—Sweden's refusal to abandon her cherished neutrality.
The fact that three separate, secret meetings were held over a period of many weeks indicated that there were major points of difference.

In all probabilities, Norway and Denmark worked very hard to persuade Sweden that her ends would best be served by following the example of Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg in renouncing neutrality.

The Swedes had an obvious answer as to why they could not and would not do so.

Borders On Finland

It is the simple fact that Sweden borders upon Finland and Finland upon Soviet Russia. Sweden has been scrupulously careful in her relations with Moscow and while many believe the nation is leaning over backward in this regard, her own prosperity and prestige are much at stake.

The Swedes resent any implication that by remaining out of both the first world war and Adolf Hitler's second one, they profited while millions died for democracy. In answer, they point to their tax rate, the highest in the world, and say this is essential for a balanced economy in the present state of the world.

It is unquestionably true that Scandinavian participation would strengthen greatly both the defense pact and the western union.

Represents Vacuum

At present the Scandinavian bloc represents a vacuum rather than a buffer between western democracy and Soviet communism. Should a world crisis develop, Sweden might be the first to feel the weight of Russian attack for any over-all strategy would seem to call for invocation of the Russo-Finnish treaty of alliance which would put red troops at Sweden's border.

For its own protection, the western union would have to rally to Sweden's support. But the handicap at present lies in the absence of long-range military plans embracing Scandinavia in event of emergency.

Military experts are convinced that the opening days of any new conflict would be lightning war in the extreme and there will be little or no time for last-minute decisions or hasty planning.

This was recognized by Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvar Lange a few weeks ago when he said Scandinavia must turn its eyes to the west. Lange's speech caused immediate consternation in Sweden and is believed to have been one of the reasons for calling the conferences with Norway and Denmark.

There is also the fact that the United States may not be willing to sell arms and ammunition to any states that are not members of the European arrangement, which is a heavy price for Sweden to pay for neutrality.

There are expectations, however, that as the defense pact takes shape and form it may become a tremendous factor in preserving peace that Sweden yet may change her attitude and throw in her lot with the west.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

This is a most important column. It covers an inauguration. Not President Truman's inauguration.

You read all about that with headlines, with pictures. You heard it on the radio, saw it on television.

But this is a different inauguration. It is the inauguration of my new typewriter.

"Is the fellow crazy?" you may rightfully ask, "comparing the inauguration of his new typewriter with a presidential inauguration?"

What is crazy about it? If I had my old typewriter overhauled and did a lot of celebrating about it, that would be crazy.

Just as an elaborate presidential inauguration with all its expense and all its fanfare would in my opinion, be justified only if it inaugurated a brand-new president.

However, that is not what I want to talk about.

I want to tell you about my new typewriter.

This is the first column being written on it.

My old typewriter was almost twenty-seven years old. The keys were worn out. The spacing had become irregular. (Ed. note: Erich, you said a mouthful!)

Ribbon after ribbon got fuzzy after using it a few weeks. The thing made a terrific racket.

But I hated to part with it. It had served me well.

The original price of that machine had been around seventy-five dollars.

The new one cost $149.

"How much will you allow me on the old one?" I asked the typewriter man.

He looked the serial number up in the book. It didn't show. Too old.

But he took a chance. He gave me ten dollars out of his own pocket in the hope of finding a customer.

(pardon the error), a customer for it.

Which reminds me of an experience a writer friend of mine had. He, too, needed a new typewriter. The dealer allowed him only five dollars on his old one.

"No good," "Worn out," "Ready for the junk heap." That's what the dealer said about my friend's old typewriter.

A few days later he went into the same dealer's store.

There, on a counter, was his old machine, all shined up, with a sign on it "A wonderful bargain! As good as new! $75.00 tax included."

Two days later he went back. The machine was gone.

Sold at $75, the clerk told him. I guess that is what you call supply and demand.

You ought to see all the gadgets on this new machine of mine. Everything is done with a flick of a key.

Everything but the thinking. That's still done the old fashioned way.

Trial of Communists Is Test

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The trial of the little group of men who have directed the Communist party in the United States is being watched throughout the world. In a sense it is a test of the American judicial system as well as a trial of the Communist party.

In recent years we have learned a great deal about the conspiratorial methods of communism in its operation in almost every country on the globe. Novelists, such as Arthur Koestler and others, have brilliantly dissected the Marxist mind with its awful, guilty complex.

The Canadian espionage inquiry gave a carefully documented picture, never before available, of techniques. It showed how disgruntled, disaffected citizens on the one hand and willful idealists on the other hand could be drawn so far into the communist net that they found themselves becoming traitors and spies almost without being aware of it.

The pattern of training in Moscow for revolutionaries and saboteurs has been revealed. Graduates of every nationality pop up in their respective homelands prepared to help overthrow existing governments.

Were the 12 American communists carrying on in this pattern, and can the government prove it? This is the question the jury must decide.

The communists are raising the issue of the right of free speech. The American Civil Liberties Union, which has no taint whatsoever of communism, defends the right of communists to argue their beliefs. With respect to the issue of free speech it seems to me important to make a distinction. Speech that is open and public, even including public speech advocating revolution, is within the framework of traditional American freedom.

But speech that is secret and conspiratorial does not come under the protection of the constitutional guarantees. Thus, two men planning to rob a bank could scarcely claim freedom of speech for a discussion of their plot.

Attorney General Tom Clark is confident that the government's case against the communist bosses will not cut across the guarantees that are at the heart of American freedom. The indictments were returned only after the most thorough and exhaustive investigation into the acts—as distinguished from the words—of the Communist party in this country.

The department of justice has more at stake than the outcome of the trial. Mr. Clark has asked congress for a drastic tightening of the present statutes covering espionage. The case now being presented in New York and its outcome may well determine how far congress will go in granting further powers.

One of the things Attorney General Clark is asking is that evidence obtained by wire tapping be allowed to be introduced as evidence in the federal courts. There is a great deal of confusion about the matter of wire tapping which Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes called a "dirty business."

Wire Tapping
Tapping is not now forbidden by law. A great deal more of it goes on than the average citizen realizes. While evidence obtained in this way cannot be used in a federal court, the Federal Bureau of Investigation does a limited amount of wire tapping under the personal supervision of the attorney general. On the average, (Continued on Page Six)

JOBS UPON A TIME
PHILIP BARRY, dramatist, born in Rochester, N. Y., started a career in the code department of the American embassy in London in 1918-19. You and I, a three-act comedy, was his first play, produced in 1922. Barry is married and has two sons. His home is on Jupiter Island, Hebe Sound, Fla., in the winter; Still Pond, East Hampton, L. I., N. Y., in the summer.

STELLA ROMAN, Metropolitan opera singer, used to break horses in her native Carpathian mountains, as her father, an Army colonel, retired and bred horses. Stella first sang on horseback and when she auditioned at the Bucharest (Romania) Conservatory, was advised to leave the farm and go to the capital to study. The present season is Miss Roman's ninth with the Metropolitan. She still loves horses, and one of her most famous roles is Minnie in Puccini's The Girl of the Golden West, when she comes galloping onto the stage on horseback in the third act.

PEACE OF MIND
Three ways there are to peace of mind:
All easy paths to tread.
And one is, when we can be kind;
Let nothing harsh be said.

When difference of thought appears,
Though seem it great or small,
Be fair, remembering down the years,
That we are brothers all.

The third: to God's will be resigned,
With faith that it is right,
And there shall come that peace of mind
Which lets us sleep at night.

The Indonesian Issue

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—In February, 1899, the United States began what would now be called "police action" against a "nationalist" movement in the Philippine Islands. There are striking similarities—and significant differences—between what happened then and what is happening now in Indonesia.

The end of the Spanish-American War found the U. S. in full possession of the rich Philippines. We had benefited by collaboration with some Filipinos who were already in revolt against their Spanish overlords. These patriots seemingly believed that American victory meant independence for their island nation. When this was not immediately forthcoming, a large body of natives revolted and carried on the so-called insurrection for three bloody years of bush warfare.

Like To Forget

Americans like to forget this episode. But the fact remains that we chose to secure certain imperialistic rights at the price of suppressing a freedom-minded people. It was nearly half a century before we redeemed our promise of giving the Filipinos their unconditional independence.

Indonesia has been under Dutch imperialism for about 300 years. For the past 30 years there has been a strong independence movement which seemed to have found fulfillment at the end of World War II. To shorten a long and somewhat familiar story, the Dutch at first seemed ready to accept the fact of Indonesian independence. But in a series of second thoughts and military actions, the Dutch have altered their position. They now insist on fixing their own conditions, and time-schedule regarding the freedom of these 70 million natives. By our own standards, it might take them nearly half a century to pull out.

But events move much faster here at mid-century than in the earlier days. And there are a series of interlocking reactions. Two upcoming matters suggest that the Indonesian matter calls for almost immediate settlement.

To Come Before Senate

One of these events is to take place on the Senate floor. I am told by Senator Malone (R., Nevada) that he will offer a resolution to stop all Marshall Plan aid to Holland until the full independence of Indonesia is granted. Malone has persuaded Senator Johnson (D., Colorado) to be joint sponsor of the resolution. It is possible that Senators Pepper (D., Florida) and Chavez (D., New Mexico) will also support the resolution. This lineup would present a formidable and bipartisan challenge to the present handling of Marshall Plan funds.

Malone last spring spoke for eight hours in an attempt to stop passage of the Marshall Plan. He has not changed his mind and he now returns to the attack with new ammunition. An on-the-spot investigation of the Indonesian problem qualifies him as something of an expert witness. He has talked with both Dutch and native leaders. He has collected first-hand evidence of some shocking samples of exploitation by the colonial power. He can present, I believe, a strong case which may well arouse popular indignation even if it fails to carry the Senate resolution.

Beyond Indonesian Question

Malone's attack is calculated to carry far beyond the Indonesian question. He is freshly back from Asia and the South Pacific with evidence intended to show how Marshall Plan moneys have been used against American interests by such colonial powers as Britain, France and Holland. Regardless of the outcome, Malone is able and willing to make the fur fly.

The other event which relates to the Indonesian question is the North Atlantic Defense Pact. Here again, the U. S. is dealing with nations of imperialistic background. In order to get full cooperation from the regional defense plan, the State Department may have to recognize Dutch, British, French—even Italian—interests in Asia and Africa. Strange as it seems, we are in the position of "bargaining" with these nations to accept our military aid and protection against a common enemy.

The paradoxes here are all too evident. We may have to close our eyes to European imperialism so as to aid it against the most menacing of all imperialisms—Russian Communism. And by doing this we actually drive the victimized peoples of Asia and Africa to look toward Russia for sympathy for their nationalism.

Indonesia, of course, is not the whole problem. But it is a salient problem. And the solution, if their is one, cannot be safely postponed. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

State Police Say:

With winter storm approaching it is a signal for a large number of workers to begin their specially assigned task of keeping the highways open for travel. It is often necessary for snow plows and cinder crews to operate in stormy weather when visibility and travel conditions are at their worst. Their job is to keep the highways open for safe travel. Motorists should exercise every precaution for their protection.

They Say

OMAHA—B. Carroll Reece, former national chairman of the Republican party: "Unless the GOP wins in the 1950 congressional elections there may be nothing to fight about in 1952."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Long (D) La.: "The proposed changes in the filibuster rules are a Republican approach. They don't want to solve anything as much as they want to get the Democrats fighting among themselves."

WASHINGTON—Vice President Alben W. Barkley: "I regret my disassociation with the senate, but I will be hanging around for four years."

TORONTO—Anthony Eden, former British foreign secretary: "Speak to Moscow in the only language it understands, the language of security through strength."

The World and the Mud Puddles

A REPORT, PLEASE!
It is now time for a report on the Marshall Plan. How much has been spent? What has it done to relieve the misery in Europe? What has it done to help Europeans get back on their feet and become self-supporting? Are the Europeans ever going to be self-supporting?

Outside of the inner circles in Washington, nobody offers any answer to any of these questions. Several members of the Congress have visited Europe with the announced purpose of checking on the use of our gifts and loans. A score or more press representatives have looked things over. Yet it is safe to say that today there are not one hundred American taxpayers who know anything whatever about the use of our billions of dollars or the results therefrom.

Accounting Needed
With Congress facing a request for more billions for the Marshall Plan, it would seem no more than good sense—such as exercised by any city council or country board of supervisors—to ask a detailed accounting of the expenditures already made and a detailed budget of the use of funds further proposed. It certainly is no reflection on Administrator Paul H. Hoffman or his associates to request complete information about the use of our moneys and commodities. As head of a large corporation himself Mr. Hoffman must recognize the reasonableness of the demand for an audited accounting.

A quaint old Jeffersonian Democrat named Grover Cleveland long ago called attention to a peculiar weakness in our governmental practice. He noted that while such local officials as policemen, sher-

WHITHER CHIANG?

On several occasions during his 22 years as head of the Chinese Nationalist government, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has given up his position as head of state and has walked out on his followers. In the past, this has invariably been a shrewdly-calculated political trick to unite the quarreling factions under him. Almost invariably, the trick has worked, and the statesmen and generals have begged him to return.

The technique this time was the same, but under very dramatic circumstances. There are also these great differences: Never before had Chiang left the government with an enemy victorious in the field. Never before have the Chinese people—who still cleave to their Nationalist government—been so apathetic about further resistance to an enemy. Never before in modern history has a Chinese government had so little hope to offer its people.

The Chinese, sick of fighting and of high prices and taxes, are ready for peace at any price. There has been no doubt for weeks that the peace would be on Communist terms. Any peace will amount to a death sentence for Chiang, unless he flees the country.

Beyond this, no one can accurately foretell the generalissimo's future. He seems uncertain about it himself. This was reflected in his ambiguous and flowery farewell statement. It seems hardly likely that he will follow a course predicted a month ago and set up a government in Formosa. But anything can happen.

POLLUTED AIR

Science comes forward with some of the strangest things calculated to make men worry. Now the Carnegie Institution finds the world's atmosphere is polluted to an extent that creates an increasing menace to health. There may be in the future more cases such as the one in Pennsylvania where 20 people died when fog pinned industrial gasses down to the ground level.

The air, alleges the report, is gradually becoming polluted with foreign gases, originating in various industrial operations and in volcanoes. Pollution hovers not only over the land, but over the sea also. Pollution of air over the oceans doubled in recent years. And the air over the cities, because of expanding industry and transportation, contains 800 times more pollution than ocean air.

Our scientist, using a machine, calculates the average city dweller breathes in 900,000,000 tiny particles per minute, retaining 90,000,000 of them. Think of it! Air over New York City is laden with five tons of dirt, which is coming down to understandable cases.

The more dust-laden the air, the greater the prevalence of lung ailments. Some doctors say rickets in city children is caused by dust screening out beneficial sun rays.

Before the industrial era a poet, looking over the landscape, remarked that "every prospect pleases and only man is vile." This vileness, it seems, is everywhere, even though it may be invisible.

EUROPE'S VIEW OF U. S. ELECTION

Now that we can view the results of the recent elections in calmer retrospect we might take a look at what our neighbors in Europe think about it. The Red newspapers, of course, are highly critical of the Truman victory. They would have been even more critical of a Dewey victory, which they had expected. But in Western Europe things are a little different. Newspapers in that section of the continent express satisfaction that aid against communism will be continued, although of course they admit this would have been kept on even in event of Governor Dewey's election to the Presidency.

But what principle do they think won the victory in President Truman's election? Why, the principle of socialism. When the Republicans call the New Dealers socialists we may put that down in part to prejudice, but when observers across the ocean, outside the limits of our political strife, friendly both to the New Deal and to socialism, say the November election was a victory for their creed, then we can regard their statements more seriously.

Newspapers in Western Europe unanimously predict that the United States will now move further to the left. The London Evening Star, for example, remarks that the President "has surpassed Mr. Roosevelt's New Deal in scope and political daring. The Social Revolution may be well under way in America by 1952."

Similar views are taken by the newspapers in France and Western Germany. The Frankfurt Neue Presse, an independent newspaper, said that the United States "is converting itself from a liberal to a social democracy."

In the recent campaign President Truman went all out to the left. His speeches were written by ultra-liberal "literary lights" and there was little that he didn't promise in social legislation outside socialization of industry; his talk about steel since the election indicates that he may have even some of that in a corner of his mind.

Since the election, however, Democratic leaders have sought to assure anti-socialists that they have nothing to fear, that everything is under control. It is even hinted in some quarters that when the new legislation program finally passes it won't seem "so bad" to business after all.

What do you think? Do the European newspapers from their distance have a better perspective of the situation?

The Parent Problem

GOOD MENTAL HEALTH AND HAPPINESS

What can mean more to family happiness than good mental health of all its members?

A person has good mental health who manages himself well, gets along agreeably with other people, and seldom worries. He has few fears and anxieties. He has physical and emotional poise. He makes his feelings his friends and not his enemies.

He acquires those habits which are useful to him in society. He works hard when he plays. When he has a job, he does it wholeheartedly, and never seeks excuses to postpone it or run away from it. He has the courage to face tasks he knows he ought to face. He is not a quitter or a coward. He doesn't try to fool himself or others, nor does he pity himself. He is ever ready to accept the consequences of his own acts and shortcomings and does not blame others for his faults and failures. Others like to be with him, work with him and play with him, for they can depend on him—he is predictable. He is not self-centered but is keenly sensitive to the needs of others and considerate of their rights and feelings.

Poise and Self-Control
The person mentally-sick or mentally-ailing lacks poise and self-control. His emotions seem to master him. He is beset with all sorts of inner conflicts. While he tends to lack the normal inhibitions of culture and refinement, he also may be hampered with excessive inhibitions of no apparent social value, nor may his behavior from one moment to another be easily predictable. He seems to have no good balance wheel. He may shift suddenly from periods of no obvious restraint to periods when he is wholly shackled with inhibition. Also, he may shift from high elation to deep dejection. In most cases his dejections reign. Hampering emotions, such as fears and anxieties, predominate in the person mentally sick. Abiding happiness is not his.

Normal affection based on appreciation of another individual as a person is relatively low or wholly lacking in the person mentally ill. Indeed, the person he once loved most may become the one he most

Tyrone And Linda To Wed Thursday

Movie Star Says 'Linda Will Quit Screen After Her Marriage, To Raise Family'

ROME, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Film star Tyrone Power announced today that his bride, Linda Christian, will quit the screen after their marriage tomorrow in the Rome church of Santa Francesca Romana.

Power, 34, recently divorced from French movie queen Annabella, explained: "I think it's time for me to start raising a family."

"Besides, it just doesn't work out to have two members of a family in the movies. Their interests are divided, and one ends up without seeing the other the whole day."

Excellent Cook The screen hero of romantic roles told newsmen that Linda is "an excellent cook—especially of Mexican dishes."

It was still uncertain whether a cardinal would perform the marriage rites. Two cardinals have reportedly been asked to officiate, but one is ill.

Power said that the church had approved his marriage to Linda because his earlier marriage to Annabella was by civil ceremony only.

He said that they will honeymoon in Austria, and then return to Rome where he will finish the movie "Black Rose."

Edward Arnold Faces Suit For Support Of Wife

Wife Charges Film Actor Bragged
Of 'Affairs With Innumerable Women'

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Olive Arnold, 54, filed suit for separate maintenance on Monday against Edward Arnold in which she charged that the 58-year-old film actor bragged about his "affairs with innumerable women."

Mrs. Arnold, married to the veteran movie star for 20 years, also related Arnold's alleged clandestine trysts with a Riverside, Cal., woman in 1947.

Arnold himself filed suit for divorce in San Bernardino last May, but later the suit was dismissed. He denied his wife's allegations.

As early as 1943, Mrs. Arnold complained, her husband told her he did not care for her, and suggested that she could go her way and he his.

She related: "I asked him on one occasion, 'Why don't you give me some attention?'"

"He answered, 'I'm too busy to care for you right now. Eventually I will get around to you.'"

"He then showed me an address book which he said contained the names of his women friends. He bragged of having innumerable affairs with innumerable women."

"He constantly denied me marital kisses."

She charged that Arnold also struck her in 1945.

She charged that her husband met another woman in Riverside in 1947 and the two had "many clandestine meetings" at the actor's ranch in Riverside county and also at his Hollywood apartment.

Television Networks Are Given Criticism

F. C. C. Chairman Says Networks
Failing To Give Their Audiences Best Programs

BOSTON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The government charged Tuesday that the nation's four television networks are failing to give their audiences the best that is available in video programs.

The accusation was leveled by Wayne Coy, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, in a speech before the Radio and Executives' and Advertising Clubs of Boston.

Coy said that he was "impressed" by the criticism of a disgruntled television fan who berated the showing of lady wrestling matches, Charlie Chaplin and "ten-year-old C" cowboy movies.

Criticizes Shows
The FCC boss criticized the network shows of last January 11, which marked the linking of east and mid-west television stations by coaxial cable. He declared:

"I had the feeling on the night of January 11, and it still persists, that television broadcasters did not put their best foot forward in that night. They missed a great opportunity to showcase the best of their program services, like, for example, 'The Man Who Came to Dinner' or 'Papa Is All'."

Warned Coy:
"Misguided and misconceived notions of what constitutes the public interest can cripple the development of television and perhaps retard it forever. Television broadcasters must not forget that the public interest must be served."

Nomination Of Webb Approved By Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Tuesday unanimously approved the nomination of ex-Budget Director James E. Webb to be undersecretary of state.

The vote was 11 to 0, with two members absent. The Senate will act on the nomination Thursday.

Chairman Connally (D) Tex., announced the action and also told reporters that his committee expects to start hearings February 8 on a combined bill to continue the European Cooperation Act through its second year.

Connally said he had instructed ECA officials to prepare one bill to cover both the remaining three months interim period and the full 12-month period of the Marshall Plan's second year.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

iffs, treasurers and clerks are bonded and compelled by law to give detailed and accurate accounting of all public funds, the departments of the United States government — the biggest corporation known to history — go blithely on their way without ordinary financial responsibility, and in many cases without any rational system of bookkeeping. I don't suppose the Marshall Plan contemplates even keeping a bookkeeping system.

The Marshall Plan, already with millions spent, is a function of the United States government. Its funds are provided by the millions of American taxpayers. What rule of diplomatic courtesy or Congressional ethics is there to preclude a dollar-for-dollar accounting by the ECA of its receipts and expenditures — with an honest summary of the results achieved?

despises. More often than not, the mentally-sick or mentally-ailing person is shut-in and self-centered, not readily responsive to other persons nor sensitive to their interests, feelings and needs. He doesn't squarely face reality nor take responsibility for his own acts. He may constantly blame others for his own faults and failures and may be suspicious of them and always sorry for himself. In consequence, he is not disposed to co-operate and direct his purposes and behavior toward the best welfare of other people or groups of people. He may not only be non-social; he may be positively anti-social.

The ancients believed that blood grew hot or cold, and that this difference of temperature ruled the temper; hence the term "in cold blood."

about 10 taps are approved by Mr. Clark to be carried on simultaneously.

Under the proposal outlined by the attorney general, wire tapping would be permitted only when in the interpretation of the department of justice the national security is involved. Evidence obtained under such a ruling from the attorney general could be introduced in the federal courts.

Under any other circumstances wire tapping by governmental or private agencies would be unlawful. Thus, if Mr. Clark's proposal is enacted into law, the wholesale snooping by the wire-tap method would be ended. Presumably, in only a very few instances would an attorney general approve this technique, since he would be directly responsible in the event of a backfire with public opinion rising up in protest at an abuse of what most Americans, at any rate, consider highly unpleasant business.

This will be one of the toughest decisions for congress to take. A decision should be reached only after extensive hearings have reviewed the whole question of the right of free speech in connection with the threat of the communist conspiracy. It will be no triumph over communism if in the effort to defeat the conspiracy the methods of our government are degraded to a conspiratorial level.

Auxiliary Groups Aid New Castle Hospital

If you phone New Castle hospital to ask about a friend or relative who is a patient there, chances are that you'll get your information through a volunteer office worker.

For the newest project of the hospital's Women's Auxiliary is the staffing of an information service or message center. The headquarters are in the hospital chart room where latest information on patients is instantly available to the part time volunteers.

The women not only supply information for outside inquiries but transmit messages and orders from doctors and administrative personnel within the hospital. When they're not on the phone, they may be handling such office detail as making up diet slips.

Working On Project

Among those who are already working on the project under the direction of Sister Mary John, hospital superintendent, are: Mrs. James H. Cypher, Mrs. Joseph Wendt and Mrs. P. A. Zarilla. A number of others have enlisted in the project and considerable interest is being stimulated, according to Mrs. E. D. Woods, Auxiliary president.

"I think it's a very wonderful project and I find it tremendously interesting," said Mrs. Cypher in commenting on the two mornings a week which she gives to the work. "I only wish I had more time to give," she added.

Other Auxiliary groups already well organized and serving the hospital actively include the Gift Shop Committee, the Hostess Committee and two sewing groups.

The Gift Shop, operated for the convenience of patients, visitors and hospital personnel, also provides a snack and lunch service. Mrs. William G. Walters is chairman of this activity and says that proceeds are to be used in a special way to benefit the hospital.

Provides Hostesses

Mrs. T. M. Love is chairman of the group which provides hostesses to serve visitors during the two visiting periods every day, 2 to 4 p.m., and 7 to 9 p.m. You'll usually find two of these ladies on duty at a desk in the hospital lobby.

Oldest group in point of service is the Hospital Emergency Club which was organized 31 years ago last month. Now absorbed into the comparatively new Auxiliary, they still meet monthly to sew for the hospital. Mrs. John Griffith heads this group.

There is also a Children's Services sewing group chairmanned by Mrs. Alfonso Scarazzo which meets every two weeks at the hospital and is busy turning out nightgowns and other articles needed by small patients.

Next general meeting of the New Castle Hospital Auxiliary will be held February 3 with an educational program scheduled on the subject of cancer. There will be pictures and a doctor will speak.

Rheumatic Heart Director Named

Philadelphia Woman Named Director Of Department Which Directs Rheumatic Program

HARRISBURG.—The appointment of Dr. Mary L. Richardson, of Philadelphia, as chief of the Rheumatic Heart Division, Pennsylvania Department of Health, was announced today by Dr. Norris W. Vaux, secretary of health.

Dr. Richardson comes to her new post from St. Christopher's Hospital for Children, Philadelphia. She served there for the past seven years as resident, chief resident and co-ordinator of medical services.

Her work with the State Health department will involve direction of its rheumatic fever program which during the past three years has established 13 heart clinics where patients with a history of rheumatic fever of rheumatic heart disease may register for future treatment, if it is needed.

Rheumatic fever takes more lives than all other childhood diseases combined. Thousands of those who survive are left with damaged hearts.

Born in LaCrosse, Wisconsin, Dr. Richardson received her medical training at the University of Colorado, Denver. She is a member of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

The party leaders were putting on a great show for visiting delegates from the provinces. Stalin himself took in tow a stalwart from the Caucasus who had never been in Moscow before. In one room of the Kremlin, he pointed to a microphone and said, "That little instrument is hooked up to the entire world. We pour our propaganda into it, and every person alive hears us."

The Caucasian was duly impressed. "The whole world hears," he marveled. "I'd like to try it." "Okay," conceded Stalin. "You can say just one word into the microphone." The Caucasian seized the instrument, took a deep breath, and holed, "HELP!"

Alan Lomax tells of the sportsman who brought his prize pointer with him to Chicago. In front of a Jackson street edifice the dog stiffened, and refused to budge. The sportsman looked up at the sign over the doorway. It read, "A Partridge Lawyer."

Britain Would Cooperate With Truman's Plans

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Foreign Secretary Bevin declared Tuesday that Britain's "knowledge, ability and resources" stand ready to cooperate with President Truman's plan to develop the world's backward areas.

Bevin said that "all the colonial powers" welcome the President's proposal to raise the standard of living in undeveloped regions.

He told the Foreign Press Association luncheon in London: "A good standard of life and happiness in association with western civilization is probably the greatest contribution we can make."

Bevin voiced praise for the Marshall plan as well as the President's new program. He expressed regret that the Russians could not see or seize the opportunity offered to them by American aid programs.

The foreign secretary called for a world organization "that will not lead to further disillusionment."

Gen. MacArthur Is 69 Years Old

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—President Truman on Tuesday gladly inscribed his signature on a scroll congratulating Gen. Douglas MacArthur on his 69th birthday, which the distinguished military leader observes today.

The scroll, signed by scores of prominent Americans, was brought to the White House by Richard W. O'Neill, a veteran of World War One, is chairman of the committee in charge of a birthday dinner being held in New York to honor MacArthur "in absentia."

The rose was one of the first flowers to become domesticated. More than 200 species have been discovered and named.

Seek New Trial For Farmhand In State Murder Case

Attempt Launched Before State Supreme Court For Man Under Death Sentence

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—(INS)—An attempt was launched Tuesday before the State Supreme Court to win a new trial for Ray T. Simmons, 24-year-old Mechanicsburg farmhand who is under a death sentence.

Simmons was convicted of first degree murder in the hammer slaying of Herbert Humpert, 70-year-old Biglerville farmer, which took place March 24, 1947.

Attorneys for Simmons filed a petition with the high court asking authorization for the Adams county court of oyer and terminer to show cause why a new trial should not be granted, even though the term of court in which Simmons was convicted has expired.

Chief Justice George W. Maxey said the petition will be heard in Philadelphia April 11. The petition was based on evidence unearthed after Simmons' trial. It is contained in an alleged confession signed by Robert Staley, a confederate, who is serving life sentence in Eastern Penitentiary for the robbery-slaying.

Staley, according to the "confession," has now declared that Simmons did not wield the death blows but was so drunk that he was unable to leave the automobile in which they drove to Humpert's farm.

Staley is reported to have declared in the document that he (Staley) scuffled with Humpert during the robbery, but did not leave him in a dying condition.

"It is my belief that if any knooks caused his death it was from a mule or animal kicking him. The animals were around (in the barn) and the scuffling near them."

WOMAN ASPHYXIATED

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Huntingdon for Mrs. Blanche H. Norris, 52, a Juniata College employee who was found asphyxiated by carbon monoxide gas Monday in an automobile parked in a barn on the Huntingdon county fair grounds.

Coroner E. Blair Shore said death was accidental.

CHARGE SON SLAIN

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—(INS)—James Mahoney, Jr., 25, was in Allegheny county jail today to wait grand jury action on the charge that he murdered his three-month-old son, James, on Jan. 4.

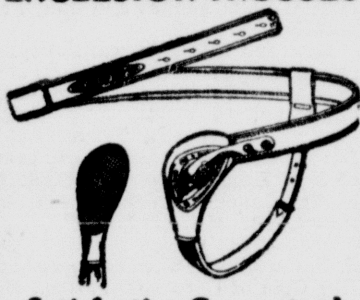

Mahoney was ordered to face grand jury action by a coroner's jury in Pittsburgh Tuesday.

Tulsa Landlords Make Protest On Rent Control Bills

Hand Out 'Dispossess' Notices As Protest On Pending Rent Control Bills

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 26.—(INS)—A nationwide threat of eviction hung over thousands of tenants today following the action of Tulsa landlords in handing out "dispossess" notices in protest over pending Congressional rent control bills.

Chicago and Milwaukee, Wis., owners received notices from the Property Owners Association of America in Tulsa calling for the issuance of eviction notices and withdrawal of all property from the rental market. Similar notices also went to members in 20 other cities.

The Tulsa Association said it scheduled delivery of 600 to 1,000 notices to renters by Feb. 1, since the present rent control law requiring 60 days notice of eviction expires next March 31.

Expect Others To Join

Other cities, including Kansas City, Mo., San Antonio, Tex., Detroit, St. Louis, Fort Wayne, Ind., and Grand Rapids, Mich., were expected to join in the mass eviction campaign.

The Rev. Wallace J. Murphy, executive secretary of the Tulsa group, said he had called in all the tenants in his 18 units and personally handed them their notices. Eviction notices were standardized and addressed to "tenants, veterans and tax-payers." They stated that the property owners were withdrawing all rental property from the market and would refuse to rent so long as rent controls remained.

Rev. Murphy was formerly president of the National Association of Property Owners with headquarters in Kansas City. He said all his tenants "are cooperating with me in this."

The minister identified the two bills before Congress that the Association objects to as Senate Bill 423 and a House bill backed by housing expediter Tighe Woods.

MAN SUFFERS FROM PECULIAR INJURY

Anthony McGown, aged 34 years, who is employed at the Joe Rick stock farm on the Harlansburg road, suffered a dislocation of the right shoulder in a peculiar accident Tuesday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. McGown was reaching for something above his head and dislocated his shoulder. He was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where he received treatment.

WILDCAT WALKOUT ENDS

AKRON, O., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Production returned to normal today following the end of a wildcat walkout which idled 3,500 employees of the tire division of the Goodrich company in Akron.

The walkout was called off last night to make possible negotiation of the problem between the company and local 5 of the CIO-United Rubber Workers.

House Committee In Secret Meeting With Defense Chiefs

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The house armed services committee called a "highly secret" meeting with America's defense chiefs today to hear a confidential communique on the world situation, particularly the "cold war" with Russia.

The committee scheduled a 10 a. m. EST meeting with Defense Secretary Forrestal and the secretaries of chiefs of staff of the army, navy and air force behind closed doors in the Pentagon building.

While the conference is an annual affair, Rep. Vinson (D) Ga., committee chairman, warned his colleagues in advance that the report "will be strictly confidential" and they "must not divulge anything."

An aide to Forrestal said the committee probably will ask for information on progress of the cold war and the possible need for more troops and planes in Europe and Asia as well as on such internal matters as the "unified" services.

Intelligence reports on Russian land, air and sea strength as well as defense estimates of Soviet intentions also are expected to be discussed.

Great Orchestra Conductor Here

On February 3

If you listed the really great orchestra conductors of the world today, the name of Dmitri Mitropoulos would have to be included. He ranks not quite with but not too far under Arturo Toscanini. After Toscanini there are few living conductors who can be considered greater than the conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra which appears in the Cathedral Thursday night, February 3.

Finest Yet
New Castle has heard some fine symphony orchestras through the agency of the Metropolitan Concert Guild, but the Minneapolis is beyond all question the finest.

It is an attraction usually to be found in the metropolitan centers, but not often in cities of the size of New Castle. Its appearance here is a contribution to the cultural life of the city.

In order that everyone may have an opportunity to see and hear the Minneapolis, the Guild has agreed to sell individual seats for the concert. Tickets can be obtained from Mrs. Lester McClelland at PO box 251 or by phoning 4835 after 6 p. m. They will also be on sale at the door of The Cathedral on the night of February 3.

The present value of Stradivarius violins, made by the famous 17th century violin maker, ranges from $5,000 to $100,000.

Reports Picking Onions From Garden Tuesday

That lad who wrote "It's June in January" wasn't too dumb at all. Just a bit premature insofar as Lawrence county is concerned. We've had nearly June in January since New Year's morning. Despite blizzards in the west, heavy snows in the east, slush and snow storms in adjoining counties, Lawrence county has been as clear of snow and ice as a billiard ball is of sandruff.

And today an east side citizen reported the payoff on this unusual weather.

He had green onions for dinner last night, picked from his own garden.

Not a hot house garden, not a bunch of store bought scallions transplanted to the garden, but green onions left in the ground last fall.

He also found a lot of turnips that had not been gathered last fall sweet and crisp and ready to eat.

But about the onions. They were not as long as those raised in hot houses but the stems were about five inches long with the bulb end sufficiently formed to be tasty but not large enough to be strong.

In the same garden are weeds which ordinarily would not be showing much growth until March. These were green, fairly long and seemed in a fair way to be in seed before St. Patrick's Day if this weather continues.

Lawrence county seems to have been insulated against winter thus far. There have been but two days since winter started when sled riding was possible, the owners of skating ponds are as idle as a ferryman under a bridge.

And today a friend wintering in Florida sent us a card which read "having a good time, wish you here."

Why? There are more than 400 different species of rhododendrons and azaleas.

Meeting The Noise Problem

Those of us who have grown into staid adulthood may find it hard to believe that, as children, we were noisy. The youngsters around us today somehow or other seem much more boisterous than we remember children in our generation to have been.

To be sure, natural childlike activities were more often suppressed by grown-ups when we were children. It may be that a noise-measuring machine would have proved otherwise. But the fact remains that noise is natural and fun for children.

Since grown-ups and children live together, there probably must be some compromises. Too often in the past we have expected the children to do all the compromising—"to be seen and not heard."

If possible, one part of the house or apartment should be largely the children's. If floors are covered with rugs or even with linoleum under which a felt base has been laid, noise isn't broadcast easily.

Then, too, in good weather, the outdoors—either backyard or sidewalk—can be the main playing space for children. If we don't nag too much but work out ways in which the noise disturbing to adults can be minimized, children will usually be co-operative.

STREET INTRODUCTIONS
"A friend called me down because I did not introduce her to another girl whom I met on the street. I have always understood that street introductions are not in good taste. Please tell me what I should have done and tell me on what occasions introductions should not be made."

the street to chat, you should have introduced the two strangers. But if you merely hesitated for a minute or two to exchange greetings, your other friend should have proceeded slowly, giving you a chance to catch up with her.

Introductions, regardless of circumstances, are made whenever necessary to prevent an awkward situation, and it is definitely awkward to have two strangers staring silently at each other.

Do not introduce people in church, either before, during or after the service. Wait until you go outside. The aisle of a theater is likewise no place for this procedure. And by all means do not make introductions during a play, or while someone is singing, playing or speaking. Never attempt to introduce two people who are seated or standing far from each other.

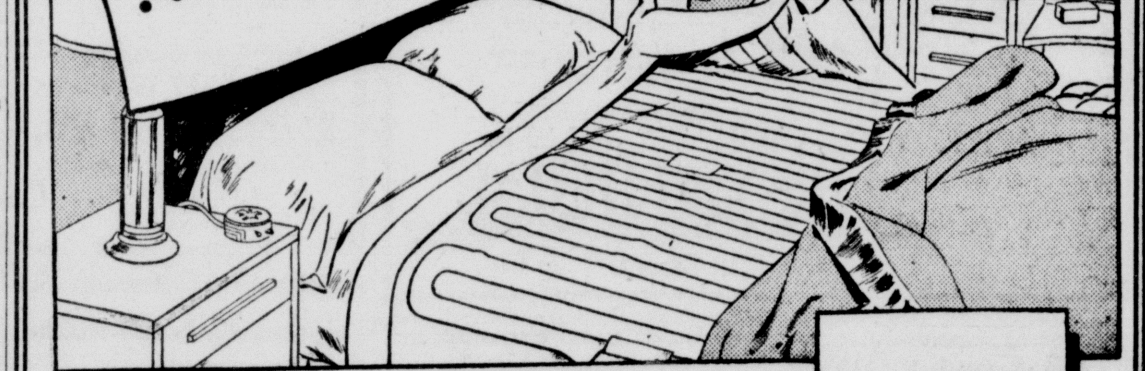

Wait until a more opportune moment.

At large, formal gatherings, such as a tea, reception or dinner, a guest is not introduced to every other guest present. This would be too much of a burden on the host or hostess. And besides, a guest standing or sitting near another may speak to her without an introduction. But, I repeat, introductions should be made when to do otherwise would create an awkward situation.

Question: I shall marry soon and my wedding will take place in the rectory. Since I plan to wear a street-length dress, should I carry an arm bouquet?

Answer: No. You should wear a shoulder corsage.

RIDDLE-HIGBE SIGN
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Elmer Riddle and Kirby Higbe returned signed contracts to the Pirates office in Pittsburgh today. They are the eighth and ninth Buccos to sign.

Just before the season starts. This, however, is the sort of pardon that came too late. The Red Sox were figuring on playing the Braves last October, just after the season ended.

North Carolina State's basketball squad set a Southern Conference record last season by winning all 12 league contests and all three league tournament games.

The Red Sox, who have 11 games scheduled for their Sarasota, Fla., training quarters, get to play the Braves in Boston, April 16 and 17.

New Castle Defeats Ellwood City 43 To 40 In Section 3 Tilt

Don Reed Stars With 28 Points

Lions Club Benefit At Arena Tonight Will Draw Crowd

New Castle High Red Hurricane basketball team avenged itself for a lot of Section 3 losses last night by taking a 43 to 40 win from their county rivals, Ellwood City, on the Lincoln High hardwood.

It was the never-say-die spirit of the whole team and the accurate shooting of Don Reed, who does everything but lead the cheers, that picked the Red and Black aggregation up by their own boot straps in the final period to eke out win number two in sectional play after trailing throughout the contest.

Reed Has 110 Points

Joe Giovannini sparked the Wolverines to a 16 to 10 first quarter lead. The rangy Ellwood center accounted for 8 of the Wallace machine's points but young Mr. Reed netted all but one of the Canes' total to keep the locals in the contest.

Reed, who amassed a total of 28 markers for his evening's chore to zoom even further ahead in the loop scoring race, got 5 more markers in the second period while Ellwood, led by Carl Mantz was taking 28 to 20 first half lead. Reed has scored 110 points in six loop games.

Big Third Period

New Castle outscored their rivals 12 to 8 in the third period and cut down the home team's lead to only 4 points to start the final stanza. DeCaria, however, hooped in a two-pointer soon after the last quarter got underway to make it 38 to 32. At this point, the Thomasesmen either caught their second breath or remembered how much they had enjoyed beating Farrell Tuesday night, and proceeded to allow Ellwood only two more points while they were garnering 11 markers.

Reed added his third foul shot, Picirillo meshed a nifty fg, and Reed followed through with an answer to make it 38 to 37 Ellwood. Clark tied up the contest with a foul but Giovannini put the Wolverines back in the lead with his fourth field goal. There were two and a half minutes remaining and his team was behind by two points, when Reed added a foul shot and came through with baskets number 11 and 12 to give New Castle a 43 to 40 margin and their second consecutive loop win.

Mantz and Giovannini shared Ellwood scoring honors, getting 27 point between them.

Fifth Place Tie

Loop standings at the end of the first half show New Castle and Ellwood City tied for fifth place with identical records of 2 wins and 4 losses. Aliquippa thumped Ambridge last night to remain undefeated and continue in its role of favorite to cop the pennant. Sharon with only one loss in six league starts is second.

New Castle, having proved that they can defeat some of the section three teams has a good chance to improve their standing during the second half but the prospects of getting back into the championship fight seems hopeless at this point.

Bill Emery And Pat Kerr Total 64 Points As Mounties Stay Tied For Lead

Mt. Jackson High basketball team left little doubt in the minds of a capacity crowd at the North Beaver school last night as to their championship intentions. The "Mounties" ran up the highest score this year in Section 23 play, to defeat their traditional rival, Bessemer, 80 to 55.

The visiting Cementers connected on 10 of their first 15 shots to set an early pace and lead 16 to 10 at the end of the first period. However, Mt. Jackson's sharpshooting forwards, Bill Emery and Pat Kerr, soon found the range and proceeded to roll up a total of 64 points between them. Bob Anderson was the big gun in the Bessemer line up. The Cementer forward connected for 21 markers.

Coach Fran Webster's cagers finished the first half of the season tied for the top post in Section 23 with Wampum, the only team that has been able to defeat the "Mounties" in loop play to date.

Lafayette Seeks New Grid Coach

EASTON, Pa., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Athletic Director Bill Anderson of Lafayette said today he expected 50 applicants for the head football coaching berth vacated by Ivan Williamson, new grid mentor at Wisconsin University.

Selection of a new Lafayette coach reportedly awaits the return of College President Ralph Hutchinson, expected back from a western trip within 10 days.

No Action Taken

The athletic committee of the board of trustees met last night, but made no announcement.

Campus rumors had it that Lafayette Line Coach Milton Bruhn and Paul Shaw, end coach, would go to Wisconsin as aides to Williamson. Bruhn had been considered top candidate for the Lafayette post.

Others believed to be considered for the job include Swarthmore College's Lew Elsworth and Maurice J. (Clipper) Smith, former Villanova College and Boston Yanks' tutor.

Table Tennis Club Elects Officers

Al Jones, local tennis star and one of the better table tennis players in the city has been elected president of the newly-organized Lawrence County Table Tennis Association. Tinny Lombardo has been chosen as the club vice president and Ray Thompson is secretary and treasurer.

The club meets each week at the "Y" on Thursday evenings at 7:30. Membership fees will be collected at the next meeting and forwarded to the national organization to secure a recognized charter from the parent body.

Meetings so far have consisted of discussion of the rules and demonstration of styles of play. A city-wide table tennis tournament will be sponsored by the club this spring.

Two Minor Upsets In Senior Y League

Three close games were played in the Senior "Y" league last night and the results of two contests can easily be classed as minor upsets.

The Chiefs outscored G.I. Shine in the last period to take a 32 to 29 win. McKee accounted for 10 of the Chiefs points and Fred Wimmer chipped in 19 in behalf of the losers.

In another close one that saw the dope bucket kicked around, the Shamrocks clipped the Civics 28 to 24. Robel's nine markers was tops for the Shamrocks and Hannon had 10 for the Civics.

Humphreys led the Wings to a 32-30 win over the Rebels. The big center got nine points for the winners and Martin came through with 8 for the Rebels.

SANDER SVS. MISTOVICH

Irish Jimmy Sanders of Warren and Nicky Mistovich of Cambell will box the 10 rounds final, at 147 pounds, February 2, in Wickliffe coliseum, Youngstown, according to Promoter Gus Karak.

Ivan Williamson Wisconsin Coach

Lafayette Loses Coach To Wisconsin, Former Yale End Coach

By CHARLES EINHSTEIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—The new low man on the totem pole of Western Conference football is Ivan Williamson, who has assumed the Wisconsin coaching job with a headache for every buck of his $10,000 salary.

Appointed Monday to succeed "Good Bye Harry" Stuhldreher, Williamson comes to Wisconsin from Lafayette college in Easton,

IVAN WILLIAMSON

Pa., where he was said to be happy if not grossly overpaid. He will become 38 years of age on February 4, three days after taking over officially as Badger coach. His nickname is "Red," although the task he faces may turn his hair white overnight.

Has Fine Record

Williamson inherits a Wisconsin team which did not do well in 1948 but is said to have some promising sophomores coming up for the 1949 campaign. What authority these reports may have is a moot question.

A former star end at Bowling Green and Michigan, and widely known in the East for his ten-year stretch as end coach at Yale, Williamson will find a new and unique student problem at Wisconsin. When the assembled scholars do not like what is going on in a football game, they put up a banner. They hold conventions and referendums.

The rest of the Western Conference, meanwhile, wishes the best of luck to Williamson, without adding that he will need it.

East Brook Hi Blasts Princeton

Score Is 43 To 17 In Section 23 Game At East Brook; Manzo And Pontius Stars

East Brook High laid it on the Princeton lads last night at East Brook 43 to 17 in a Section 23 game. Ralph Manzo and Pontius led the scoring with 24 of the points between them for the Matweys coached machine.

Mayberry and Stutler saw very little service for their respective teams, being tossed out in the first two minutes of the first period for an altercation of some kind.

It was East Brook's second win of the sectional race.

United Wins From Ohioans

The United Engineering team defeated the General Fireproofing team of Youngstown at the Senior high floor last night, 38 to 33, with Benny Korab 16 points, Harp Janacone 14, Wayne Gray 10 and Robinson 10 points in starring roles.

Charles was supposed to have clinched a crack at Louis by stopping Joe Baksi, but it generally was agreed that he needs more buildup before going into the ring with the champion.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

JANUARY 13 this column carried a letter, written by Paul W. Fombell, Box 250, New Castle, R. D. 2, in which he stated opposition to an open dog season. There also was a "box" carried in which hunters were asked to state whether or not an open dog season should be staged. President Steinbrink of the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association received 112 replies, all of which, excepting five, oppose an open dog season. President Steinbrink reports that he understands petitions are being circulated opposing an open dog season. The petitions, he adds, will be forwarded to the state game commission.

Those who have voiced their opposition to an open dog season are: John Adamczyk, Frank avenue; Walter Adamczyk, 1210 Randolph street; John O. Allen, Volant, Pa.; H. N. Charles Walther, alias Bugs, will be the commentator tonight at the Lions donkey proclivities in The Arena. Erie County sportsmen stocked 211 rabbits for last season's hunting, and reported hunting was good, which led Seth Myers, secretary, Northwest Division, State Federation of Sportsmen's clubs to write: "Instead of spending so much time trying to place the blame for the decreasing game supply, sportsmen must unite in more effort to increase and maintain a satisfactory supply." The Erie countians said they waged a campaign against predators; released a great many ringnecks in good food and cover sections in addition to stocking bunnies. . . . Young people who desire to know more about the great outdoors should not fail to mail immediately to W. T. Patterson, Union township high school, New Castle, R. D. 2, the fill-in form published in Here & There yesterday.

The aged portion of the great outdoors is to be taught. . . . Jack Bidle received news that he was the father of a bouncing baby boy, Bidle received before he fought Chuck Higgins. This finds Jack the father of two girls and two boys. His family is in California having gone to that "snow laden" state some time ago. He boxes Monday in Detroit. . . . If Rizeri Ronzi and Billy Pozza fight here, there'll be a standing room only. . . . While Johnny Fulton didn't prove much of a foe, he did, at least, fight. Pozza hits better than Ronzi but is he as tough? This will be answered only when they fight.

Wampum Stays Tied For Lead

Hand New Wilmington Defeat 56 To 51 At Wampum Floor; Lewis And Armatorio Boys Stars

Wampum stayed on an even keel with Mt. Jackson at the top of the Section 23 heap by handing New Wilmington a 56 to 51 defeat at the Wampum High floor, with a large crowd looking on. It was the sixth straight for the L. Butler Hennon coached Indians.

It was a ding-dong battle all the way with never very many points difference. Wampum increased the lead in the third period to go ahead 45 to 39 at the end of the third session. New Wilmington took an early lead in the fourth period but couldn't hold it.

Starring for Wampum were Lewis, R. Armatorio and A. Armatorio, the latter really pulling Wampum out of the fire in the final stanza. Hutchison and Garrett led the Eagles on coached Greyhounds.

Wampum's big game now is with Mt. Jackson on February 11. Wampum won the preliminary 58 to 30.

Pennsylvania Has Hunting Record

Pennsylvania furnished more hunters than any other state, according to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Survey for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1948. Pennsylvania had 847,559 licensed hunters, in addition to 150,000 farmers who did not need a license to hunt. The Keystone state also led in non-resident licenses, 28,012 having hunted game in Pennsylvania. Michigan was second with 819,406 hunters.

Barons-Rockets Tangle Tonight

The Cleveland Barons, current leaders of the Western Division, engage the Philadelphia Rockets at the Arena tonight in an American Hockey League tilt.

The Barons pushed into the Western Division lead over St. Louis by defeating Washington, 6-1, at the nation's capital last night. It was the twelfth straight league loss for the Lions.

Cleveland hasn't lost a game since they were defeated, 6-4, by the Rockets on January 15. Philadelphia has won four of its last six and is 11 points out of third place in the Eastern Division.

Boxers First To Pay 'Wage' Tax

Professional boxers from other cities paid the first Earned Income tax which has been paid here.

At the Jefferson A. C. Bidle vs. Higgins fight, Tommy Leach, Jefferson A. C. manager, collected one per cent of their purses.

Leach requested Ed. Fritz, Sports Editor, The News, to turn in the money collected to Tax Receiver Lewis McClung.

Fritz did so yesterday. Receiver McClung stated that it was the first Earned Income tax payment made since the law became effective.
